THE "reason" offered by the board of supervisors for not having their minutes officially published and keeping bursement of their money is the "penuy wise pound foolish" reason of a purely economic move. Whether the tarnavers think they have made great inroads into saving the county's wealth is not a difficult problem to solve inasmuch as they will be compelled to give "reasons" why, with an additional raise of the county taxable property of nearly $100,000, a reduction of about$5,000 yearly salaries for county officers, not to speak of the immense saving for the publishing of minutes, the tax rate is yet $4.22.

In regard to the letting of the great register contract last January, we may be permitted to again stop long enough to show how the law was transgressed Bryan, up to date, has made 205 ing condition, doing a good work for by the board of supervisors. On election years it is customary and compulsory to advertise separately for all election printing. The board advertised for proposals for certain job printing required by the county as usual, and when the bids were opened ern part of the territory and is now it was found that Mr. Pogh had put in a five word bid for printing the great the supervisors shall hold over or an register. Notwithstanding the fact that the board must first advertise for this particular work stating the number of copies required, the kind of paper upon which it is to be printed and the kind of type to be used to thus guide the bidder and hold him to his contract, yet the board exhibited a bronco disposition which was since displayed in several instances on other county matters coming before their attention and without giving even a chance to other publishers to put in a bid, they awarded the contract to our contemporary. We do not wish to be looked upon by the public as objecting to these proceedings from a mercinary motive, We have no fault to find with our contemporary for taking the contract, but the PROSPECTOR does object to such out and out evasion of the law on the part of the representatives of the people whose interests they are sworn to protect. The lesson should not be lost on the incoming adminis-

Heroic Renedy Fstal to a Sick Indian.

The following story of the heroic treatment of of a sick locitate, after all else had failed, is from the yen of the Williams News man;

Out near the yellow-bosomed Little Colorado river, where the waters churn and murmur meracingly just before they losp in frenzeied fury down over the jagged abyes of the Grand Falls, a Navajo Indian lay sick of a fever.

The magic of the Medicine Man was of no avail. Around the camplire were gathered the red brothers of the sick man. Suddenly they broke into weird incantations to invoke the interman's condition did not improve, so in places for torty miles the worst be- ter of Arizona. Contagious Blood Poison

Mr. Frank It, Martin, who is engaged in the jeweler business at 95 Penn-sylvania Avenue, Washington City, where he is well and favorably known, was a victim of that worst form of disease—contaginus blood poison. He realized that his life was about to be blasted, for this terrible disease has baffled the skill of the physicians for ages, and they have never yet been able to effect a cure. His mental despair can better be imagined than described. described.

In a recent letter he says: "About four years ago I contracted a severe case of contagious blood poison, and it was not long before I was in a terrible condition. I immediately placed myself under treatment of two of the best physicians in Washington city. Their treatment, which I took faith-fully for six months, cost me just three hundred dollars, and left me worse than when I began it. My condition car
